THE SOUTHEAST.

Louis F. Klosterman, a well-known merchant and capitalist, died at his home at Cape Girardeau July 1, aged 72 years. He was born in Levea, Westphalia, Germany, and came to this country in 1851 and to Cape Girardeau in 1852. He served as clerk in the stores of Cape Girardeau until the breaking out of the war, when he organized the 29th Missouri Infantry from Cape and Scott counties. At Chickasaw Bayou, near Vicksburg, he was so badly wounded that it was not thought that he could recover, but he was sent to the hospital in St. Louis, and soon began to improve. In 1866 he married Miss Matilda Thibault at Jackson. Mr. Klosterman was very successful in business and was connected with most of the leading enterprises of his city. He was buried Friday.

Campbell Citizens: A few women and boys caused the death of two young farmers of Pemiscot county last Sunday. The tragedy occurred near Concord, 10 miles north of Caruthersville, in which John H. Head shot and killed Otto Bush and then turned the pistol to his own head and blew his own brains out. The woman in the case, Donie Kelly, is a daughter of old Mrs. Johnsons, at whose home Marion Bridges and Eph Bridgeman were killed in March 1908. The woman and Bush were riding in a buggy when Head rode up behind them and began shooting; four shots were fired into the man either of which would have killed him. Three quart bottles of Caruthersville booze was found in the buggy, out of which the trio had been drinking, tells the tale.

Cape Republican, July 1: Ryan & Co., contractors of Memphis, Tenn., will come up on the Stacker Lee next Sunday to Mannings Landing, where they will disembark and proceed to the point of beginning of the big levee which the government will build for several miles south of the Cape. They will have a force of 200 men and 175 teams, and arrangements have been made for a camping place near the work, a space of five acres being necessary for their camp.

While sitting on the ties and asleep near Poplar Bluff, Hugh Fisher was struck by an I. M. express train and knocked off. At the next stop the train crew reported the man killed. But he wasn't even seriously hurt. And was taken to the hospital at the Bluff. This indicates how much railroads care for the lives of people. Don't even stop to see after their victims. Of course the man was probably drunk and had no business there. But that did not justify the railroad's action.

Pemiscot Argus: The melon crop is coming on nicely in Dunklin county and shipments will begin soon. Last year from Clarkton alone, the melon growers shipped 149 cars of watermelons and 39 of cantaloupes, representing a valuation of about $20,000. The shipments for this year are expected to exceed those of past years, as the shipping facilities are being improved very much, and the prospects for a crop are unusually favorable.

Bloomfield Vindicator: A barn belonging to Dan Whitledge living about two miles east of town was struck by lightning at 2 o'clock,

Tuesday afternoon and was consumed by fire, together with about 200 bushels of corn about 25 wagon loads of hay, some farm implements, and a span of fine mules belonging to Millard Fortner, which were struck and killed by the lightning before they were consumed by the flames of the burning barn.

Portageville Critic: Married, in this city, at noon, at the Catholic church, by Father Taylor, of New Madrid, J. R. Delassus, of St. Louis, and Miss Dee Fink, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Pinkley were the only witnesses. After the ceremony the bride couple left for Oran, where they were given a dinner by the brides parents. Miss Fink has been a saleslady at the Pinkley Company for nearly two years.

Jessie Kirkman, head Sawyer and foreman of the Fisher mill, was found dead in his room at New Madrid. He was 63 years old and the coroner's verdict gave the cause of death as unknown. His remains were shipped to Indiana, where he has some property and relatives. He belongs to the Red Men order.

While strolling along the banks of whitewater, in Cape county, August Kuehler shot a hardshell turtle that weighed 45 pounds and was as big around as a wash tub. The turtle was just leaving its nest where it had laid 13 eggs. Turtles lay their eggs in the sand on the banks near the water.

THE FARMERS TO MEET.
The regular quarterly meeting of the Scott county farmers' union will be held at Pleasant Valley next Tuesday and Wednesday. Every local should be represented. There is nothing so important to farmers as thorough organization. If the farmers were as thoroughly organized as the interests that feed off them, they could make those interests sit up and beg for bread.

Every branch of industry is thoroughly and effectively organized except the producers of wealth.

Will these never get wise? Attend your local meetings and see that your local is represented at all county meetings. Don't expect somebody to pull you out of the hole. This is what you have been doing—and the hole is about to close in on you.

HERE AND YONDER.

R. W. Taylor and H. D. Miller, of Macedonia, were here Monday, returning from Morley where Mr. Miller had bought a threshing outfit from Marvin Taylor. It seems that the people of Macedonia were up against it for a thresher, Gus Lux, of Kelso, was to thresh their wheat, and one of his first stands was at Henry Koch's. Because Henry was not a member of the farmer's union he could get no crew to help and Mr. Lux cut out his entire dates for that section. Mr. Taylor is finishing up around Morley for Mr. Miller and will deliver the machine to Macedonia the last of this week.

The people of Commerce will celebrate "old folks day" on Sunday, July 18, at the City Park, with a basket dinner and an appropriate program. Rev. Joe Russell, of Lutesville, one of the oldest Methodist ministers in this section of the state, will lecture at 11 a. m. In the afternoon Rev. C. N. Gray, of Fredericktown, will lecture on Christian education, and several other prominent ministers will be present to talk to the people. The park is shady and plenty of water is handy. Everybody is invited—and don't forget your basket.

Leo Heuring has rented the Clarence Sanders farm, near Oran, and will take possession about August 1. Mr. Sanders will have a sale of his farm machinery and live stock on Saturday, July 24, and will move to Oran.

A few local optionists met here Tuesday and agreed on September 4 as the election date.

The local wheat market is unsettled and is ranging around a dollar a bushel.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burton Tuesday.

FROM NEW HAMBURG.

Sol. Diebold and family and Joe Hahn and family went to Kelso last Sunday to help celebrate Joe Welter's fiftieth birthday anniversary. Joe was out looking up help to thresh wheat—not knowing that a full-fledged thresher crew was gathering at his home. When he returned he found a crowd of no less than fifty of his friends and neighbors to greet him. Mrs. Welter is one of the best cooks in Kelso township and had prepared for the crowd, and a jollier afternoon was never spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy H. Schoen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Niederhoff, and daughter, Bertha, and the Misses Dora Dirnberger, Emma Niederhoff, Alma Miller and Sister Dominica, all of this parish, and Mrs. John Glueck, of Kelso, left Monday to visit the convent at Rumma, Ill., where the daughters of Mesdames Schoen, Dirnberger, Niederhoff and Glueck are attending school.

Barney Heiser and family, of Jackson; Vincent Heiserer, of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heiserer, of Benton; John Glueck and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Glueck, of Kelso; Mrs. Bles and son John, of Oran, and Johnnie Compas, of Kelso, were among those who attended the funeral of Mrs. Laurence Bucher Sunday.

It seems that the night-riders, or some other kind of riders or hiders, are around Kelso. Dennis Diebold found a stick of dynamite in one of his wheat shocks with a card attached to it, warning him that if he threshed Joe Blaetter's crop his machine would be blown to pieces.

After a lingering illness Mrs. Lawrence Bucher, sr., died Friday. She was a daughter of the late J. B. Scherer, and was beloved by all who knew her. The remains were buried in St. Lawrence cemetery Sunday.

Louis Pfefferkorn, of Oran, was here Tuesday. He has just returned from a trip through the southwest and is greatly impressed with Oklahoma.

Franz Kuhn, of Texarkana, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Schoen. Mr. Kuhn has many friends here and all are glad to see their old shoemaker.

Joe Compas, our photographer, took the picture of Wend. Scherer's threshing outfit and crew at Dennis Graesser's place Saturday.

George Lieble and daughter Regina, of Kelso, visited the family of Charles Diebold Sunday.

Mrs. Ignatz Diebold and Mrs. Weismueller, of Kelso, visited at Frank Diebold's Sunday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Daumenmueller Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Amelia Scherer, of Scherer, visited Mrs. Joe Pfefferkorn this week.

Wheat threshing is making farmers very busy.

FROM ROCKVIEW.

Herold Turner, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Turner, died Friday of congestive chill. He was buried at the Baptist cemetery. Mr. Turner and one of his little daughters are very sick, but improving.

John Edwards moved from Chaffee into one of Tom Belk's houses, and Oscar Kern moved over to Chaffee. Thus they come and go.

Andy Combs, of St. Louis, is visiting his brother, T. M. Combs, and Tony Carroll, of Blodgett was here Saturday.

Rolla Irvin, of Chaffee, is trying to put in a saloon here, but the old residents say, "Not if we can help it."

The eagle screamed so loud at the Chaffee picnic that the people didn't turn out.

Mrs. Rose Wooley and daughter, Gladis, and Miss Birdie Balch, are sick.

Will Totty was at Taloo Tuesday.

FROM MORLEY.

Mrs. W. M. Spann, who died at her home in Vanduser Saturday was buried here Sunday, and the large attendance attests the high esteem in which this aged lady was held. This death separates a couple who celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding only a few months ago.

Plums at ten cents per gallon at the orchard. E. W. McDonough, Morley.

The rains are helping the crops wonderfully.

FROM HOOE DISTRICT.

Frank Hooe went to Lutesville Saturday to visit his sister, but owing to the prevalence of small pox there he returned on the first train.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Coop, accompanied by Miss Neda Broopman and Robt Boyde, were at the Cape Friday.

A sanctification meeting is to commence Monday night under an arbor near the big cypress.

Alex. Hooe is suffering from a very sore hand caused by a spider bite.

Walter Dillingham visited at Bell City last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Cooley have a very sick baby.

FROM ROOTWAD.

Ernest Carrand Miss Ruth Baker were married at Sikeston Saturday and Ernest Love and Miss Myrtle Hart were married last week.

J. T. Gray and family spent the Fourth at New Madrid. Also the Misses Della and Nora Trent.

About forty people attended the dinner at Chas. Curtner's Sunday.

Don't fail to attend the opening of the meeting Saturday night.

J. A. Trent sold a car-load of corn at Sikeston at 70 cents per bushel.

Wheat is pretty fair here.

FROM COMMERCE.

Mrs. Anna McPheters and daughter, Madge, of St. Louis are visiting the family of Dr. Fraser.

Harry Coffman is down from Cape visiting his brother, Yancy.

Mesdames Prince, Clymer and Carmichael visited at Ilmo Sunday.

Miss Iva Chewning of Cary is visiting the family of W. J. Worsley.

Frank Marshall and sister, Miss Nettie Mae, visited in Charleston last week. Norval Anderson has been suffering from asthma, but is better.

Marvin Houchan, wife and child, of St. Louis, are here visiting relatives.

Dee High, with his children, was in St. Louis this week.

Alex and Murray Campbell left for Prescott, Arizona, last week.

Public Sale

—OF—

Farm Machinery and Live Stock.

Having leased my farm, I will sell, at public auction, at my place 2 1/2 miles east of Oran, on the Oran and Benton road,

Saturday, July 24, 1909.

Commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m., all my Farm Machinery and Live Stock, consisting of Plows, Harrows, two Corn Planters, Binder, Hay-rake, Mower, Cultivators, two farm wagons, Manure Spreader, (nearly new), and many other farm tools too numerous to mention.

Nine Head of Horses and Mules, 15 Short-Horn Cattle and 30 Head of Hogs.

Two work-mules, one work-horse, one mare and colt, one 2-year old and three yearling colts. All of these youngsters were sired by EGYPTIAN BOY, whose record is well known both as to speed and a sire of high-class horses. They are out of well-bred mares, and all of them show more than ordinary speed at the trot.

My cattle consist of cows and calves, yearling heifers and bulls. Five of the cows have heifer calves at side and are again bred to my herd bull, MAYBEE. Two yearling bulls—one red and one roan—both ready for service. My herd bull, a 2-year-old, is a deep red of the low down, blocky type, and has proved to be a sure breeder. Here is your chance to get in on some pure-bred registered cattle at a very reasonable price.

My hogs consist of pigs ranging in weight from 75 to 100 pounds, and some large Poland-China brood sows bred to my fine Herd Boar, PREDOMINANT.

Terms:—All sums of $5 and under, cash; over $5 a credit of six months will be given, purchaser giving 8% note with approved security. If promptly paid at maturity no interest will be charged. No property to be removed until terms of sale are complied with.

J. C. SANDERS, Owner,
A. A. EBERT, Auctioneer.

FROM PORTER'S SWITCH.

Wesley the 7-year-old son of J. D. Green, was accidentally shot in the leg with a target rifle last week. Blood poison set in, which resulted in his death Saturday.
